Permanent Makeup Tattooing

Don't be confused when you hear the word tattooing. The law says whenever you put ink in the skin it is considered a tattoo. The difference is how it's delivered.

Microblading

Away to deliver the ink into the skin, creating a hair stroke look.

Lip Blushing

Closely mimics the natural lip color only a little deeper.

Electrolysis

A probe insertion into the hair follicle, of any color, cauterizing the blood supply of the unwanted hair. This will eventually stop the growth of your unwanted hair.

Eyebrow Shaping

This is usually done by waxing. You'll get about 4 weeks out of this, depending on how fast your hair grows, possibly longer.

Tattoo Removal

By my method this is usually completed by tattooing in a solution. This causes the ink to dissolve and remove itself from the surface of the skin. This is my preferred method for the face.
